Potholes have been the talk of the town recently but has this issue just appeared out of nowhere or has it been around all the while?

"Aku Janji Zero Potholes" was a campaign which ran from 2016 to 2018 and has been recently reintroduced in July 2020. This campaign promises to fill potholes smaller than 200mm immediately, between 200mm to 1000mm within 24 hours and 3 days for permanent repairs, 1000mm will require road cutting before the holes are being filled, whereas if it exceeds 1000mm, it will be considered as pavement failure. Major and complicated damages will be acted upon within 14 days of receiving reports or not more than one year for other damages.

ACTnow will support the Works Ministry's (JKR) "Aku Janji Zero Potholes" Campaign by introducing #actnowpotholes challenge. Simply join the challenge by taking a photo of potholes you encounter in your journey using ACTnow Mobile Application and type #actnowpotholes as its title. ACTnow will highlight the issue to the relevant authorities on your behalf to patch it up within 24 hours! Join #actnowpotholes challenge!

Before the pothole infamous hype begins, potholes were already everywhere in Malaysia. One of our Troopers made a complain upon seeing one, check out how DBKL actually solves and filled up the pothole upon a single complaint through ACTnow Mobile Application.

"In for a penny, in for a pound, might as well extend it".

NOT YET! Get permission first! Many Malaysians do not know that extension requires permission. This building may be spending money to no avail in Taman Midah.

Dewan Bandaraya Kuala Lumpur

Trooper snapped a series of photos of which seemed to be an unusual location for a mamak stall to exist. After a thorough check, ACTnow has found out that the stall has a legal business license!

This is unusually mindblowing but is it right to set up a stall directly beside a busy road and block off pedestrians?

Highlights Of The Week

Bald & Bold - 1-family-1-laptop

On 30 Dec 2020, ACTnow has visited MP of Muar, YB Syed Saddiq Syed Abdul Rahman during his balding session on Astro Awani. The founder and the team has shown support to YB's 1-Family-1-Laptop initiative to the people of Muar in acknowledgement of such great effort to build a better Muar, better Malaysia.

Kudos to YB Syed Saddiq for such courage to go bald to achieve this objective. Let's work together towards a better Malaysia.
